

Decolonising Development Cooperation Discourse

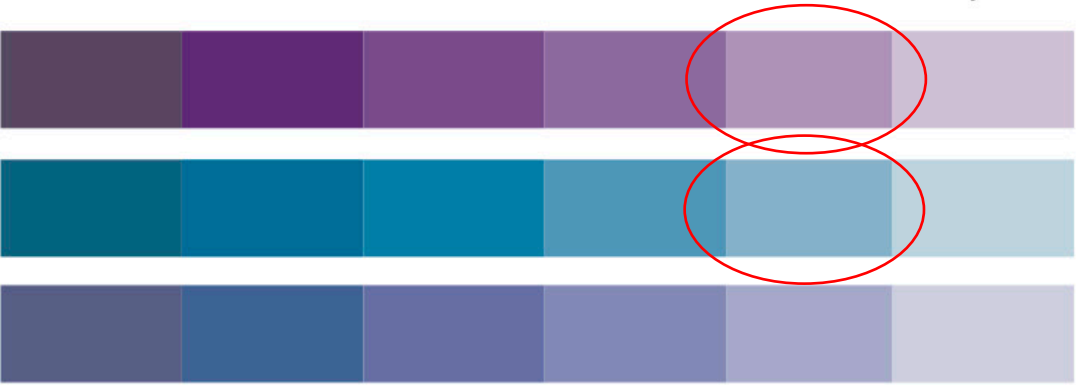

WEB DESIGN PROPOSALS

OBJECTIF

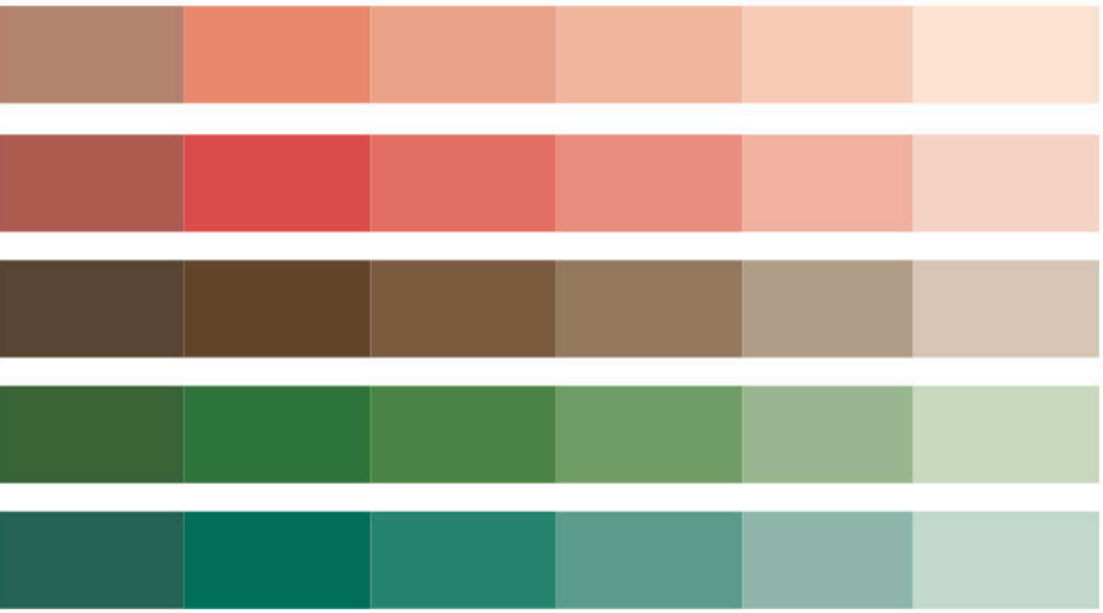

© Marco Ugolini, objectif.co.uk

Primary colours

Secondary colours

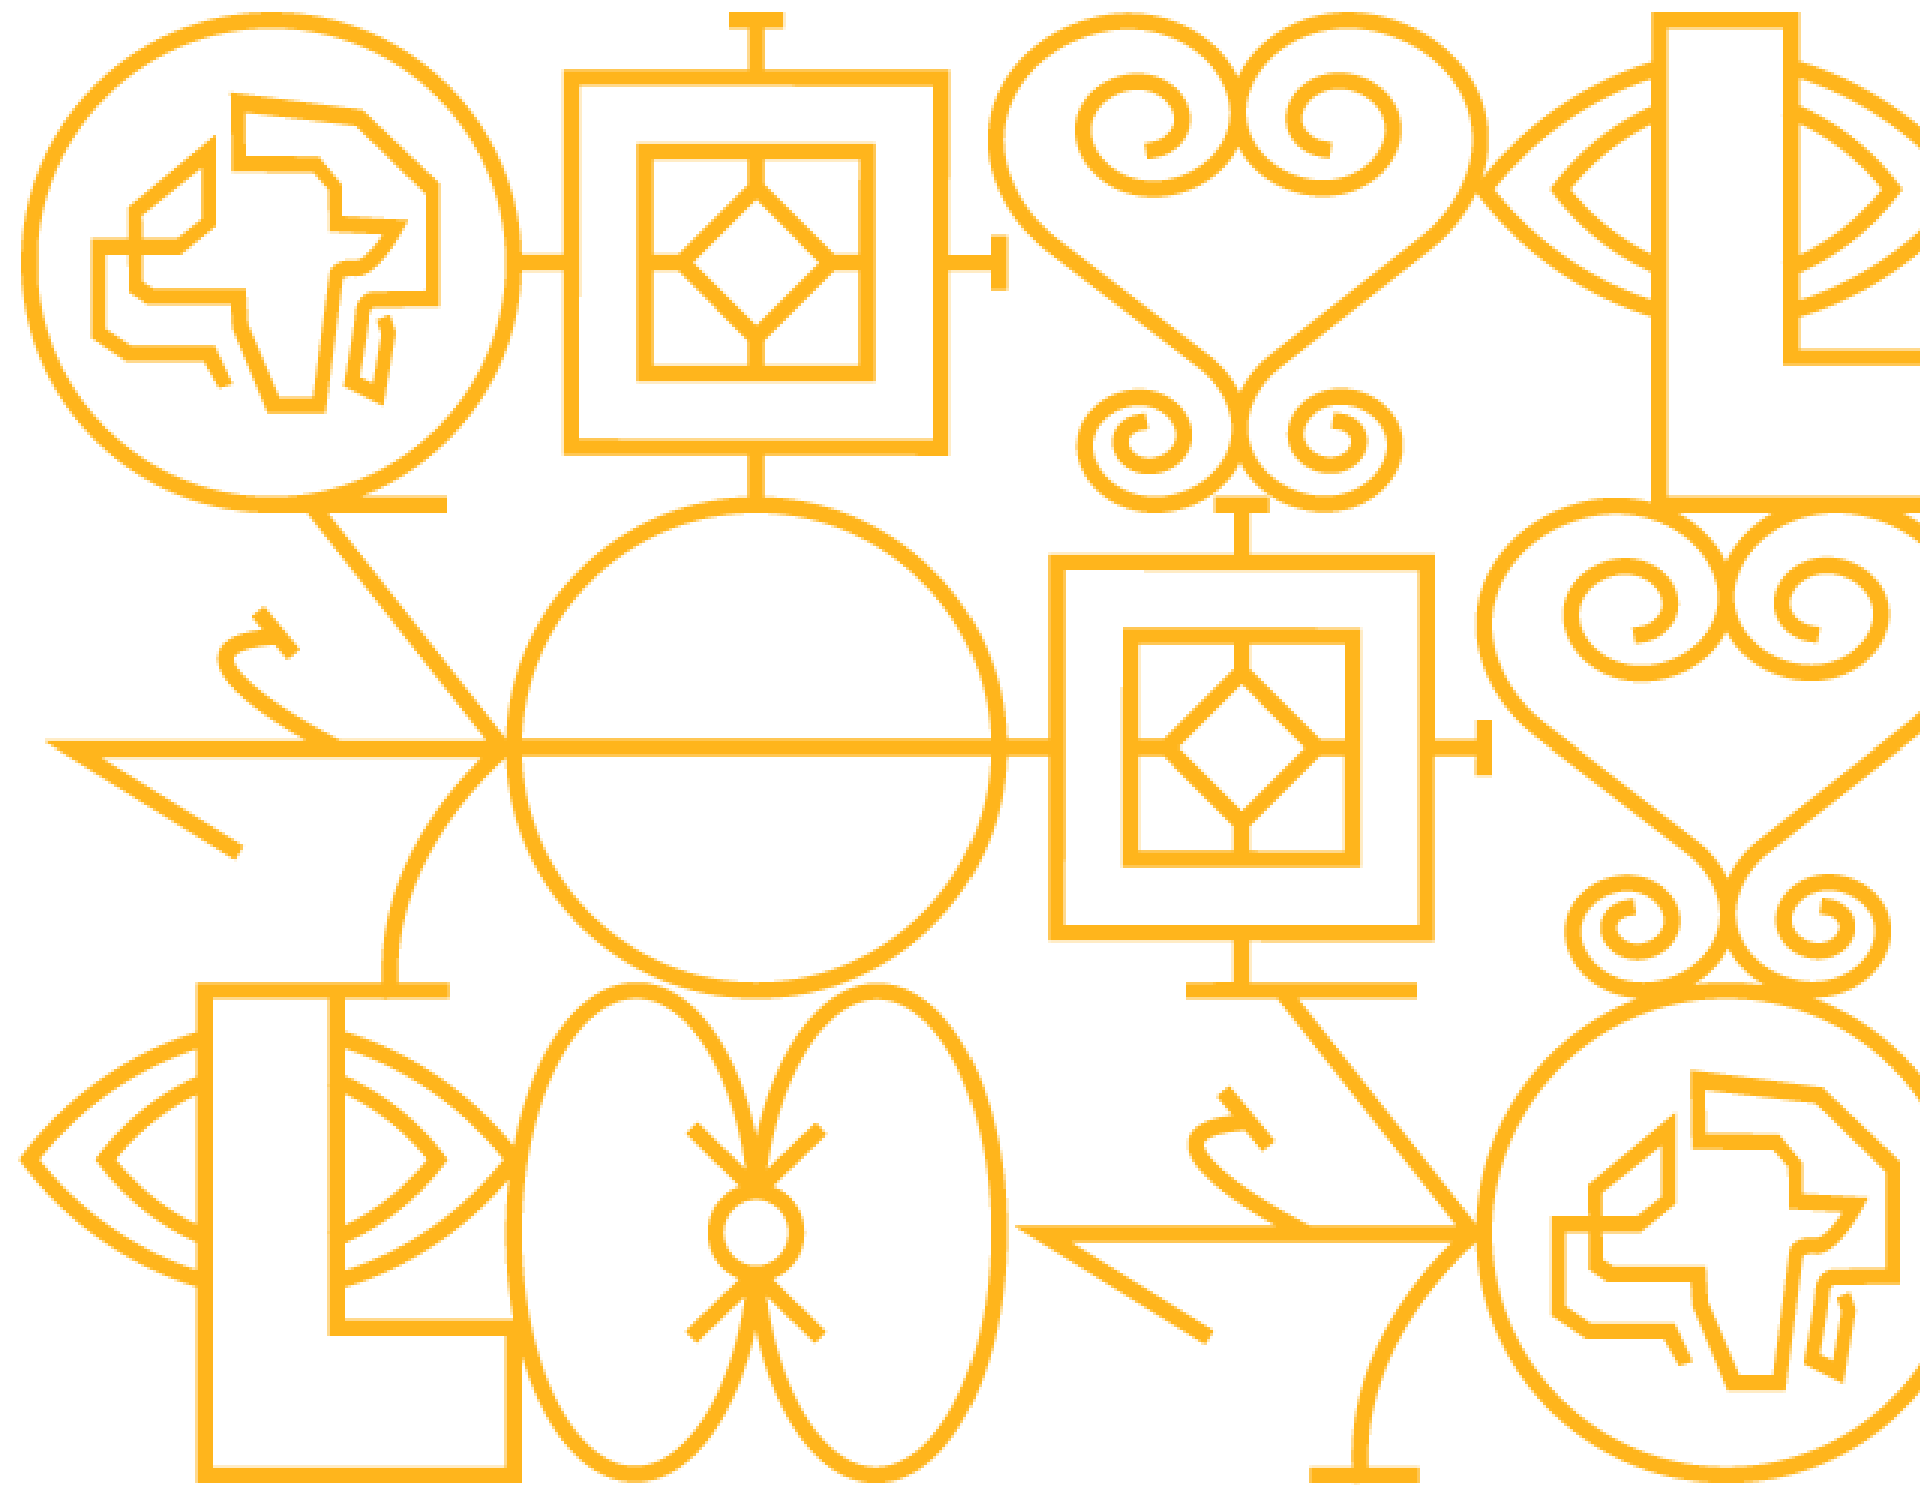

Secondary colours

Title

Font: Uncut Semibold

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Sed purus nisi, suscipit id felis a, condimentum egestas lorem. Etiam ut eleifend enim. Nam in nibh vel dui facilisis accumsan. Pellentesque et egestas velit. Ut id velit vestibulum, iaculis arcu ac, porttitor mauris. Mauris et nulla purus. Quisque porta molestie bibendum. Mauris at feugiat nulla. Cras tempus vitae est ut hendrerit.

Font: Open Sans Regular

Title

About

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Title

About

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

About	+
Axes View	+
Conceptual Space View	+
Your Position	+
Publication List	+

About

+

Axes View

—

Conceptual Space View

+

Your Position

+

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

About	+
Axes View	+
Conceptual Space View	+
Your Position	+
Publication List	+

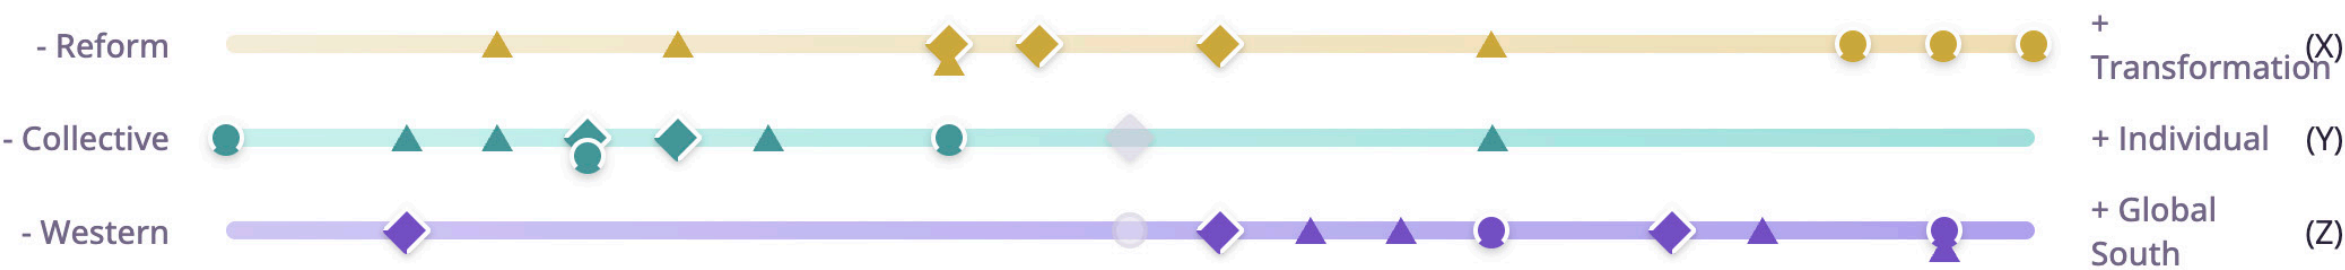

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

About +

Axes View -

Hover over an item in the list below to see its position. (10 items shown)

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society

☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements

☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View +

Your Position +

Publication List +

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

About	+
Axes View	+
Conceptual Space View	+
Your Position	+
Publication List	+

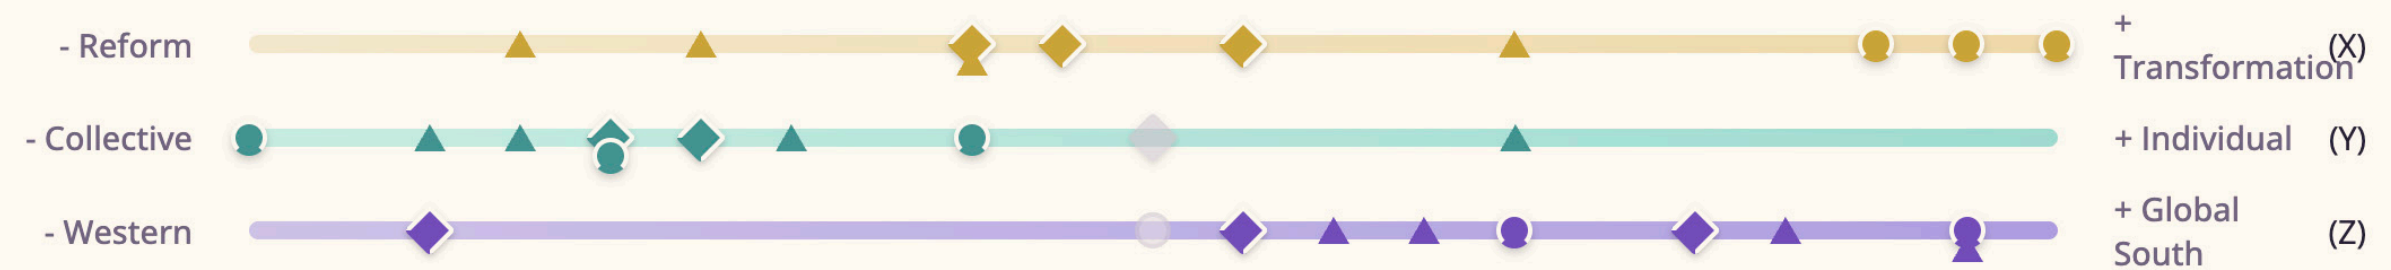

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

About

Axes View

Hover over an item in the list below to see its position. (10 items shown)

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society

☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements

☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

Axes View

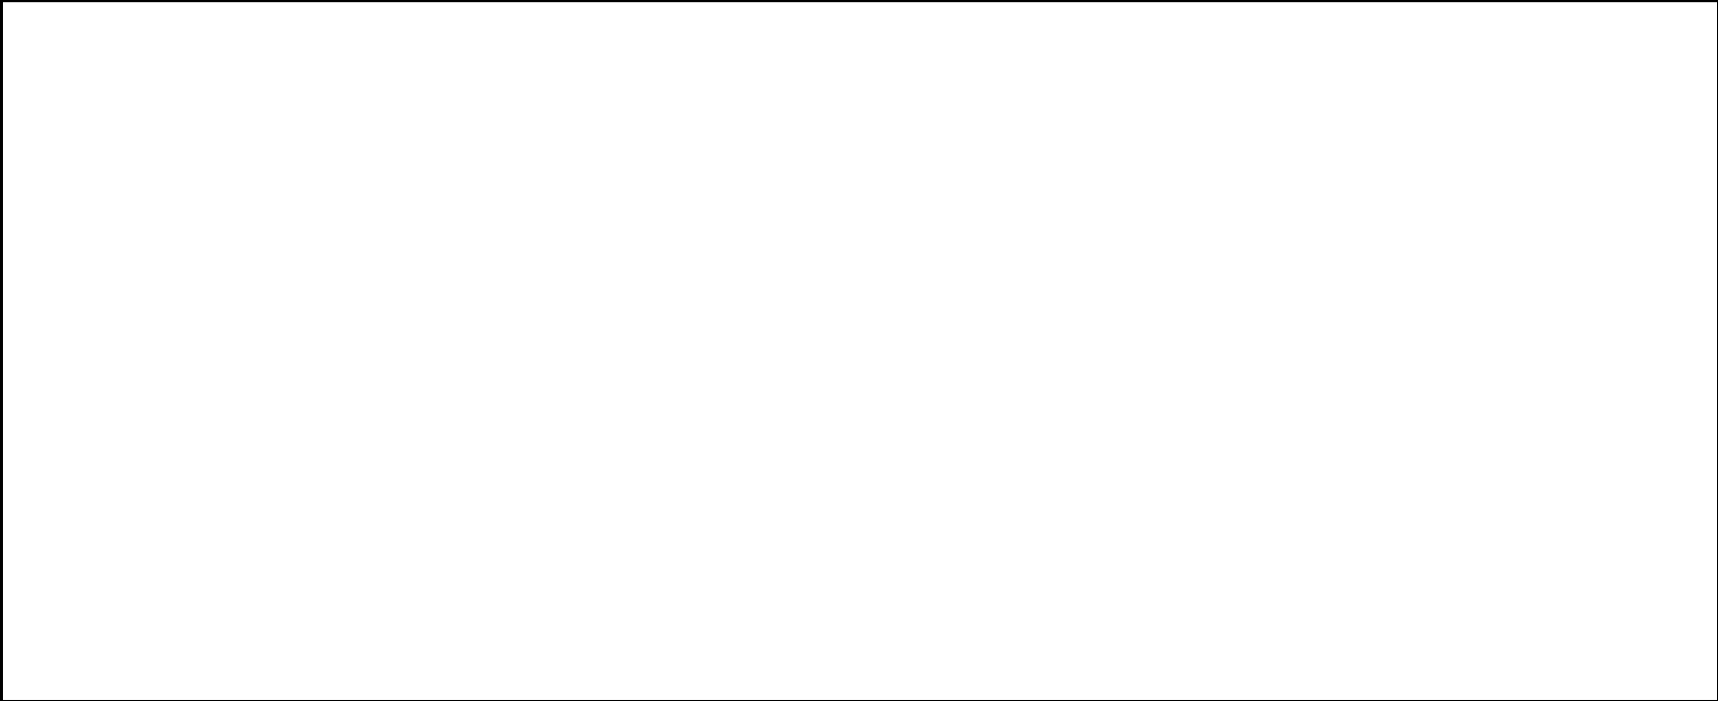

Conceptual Space View

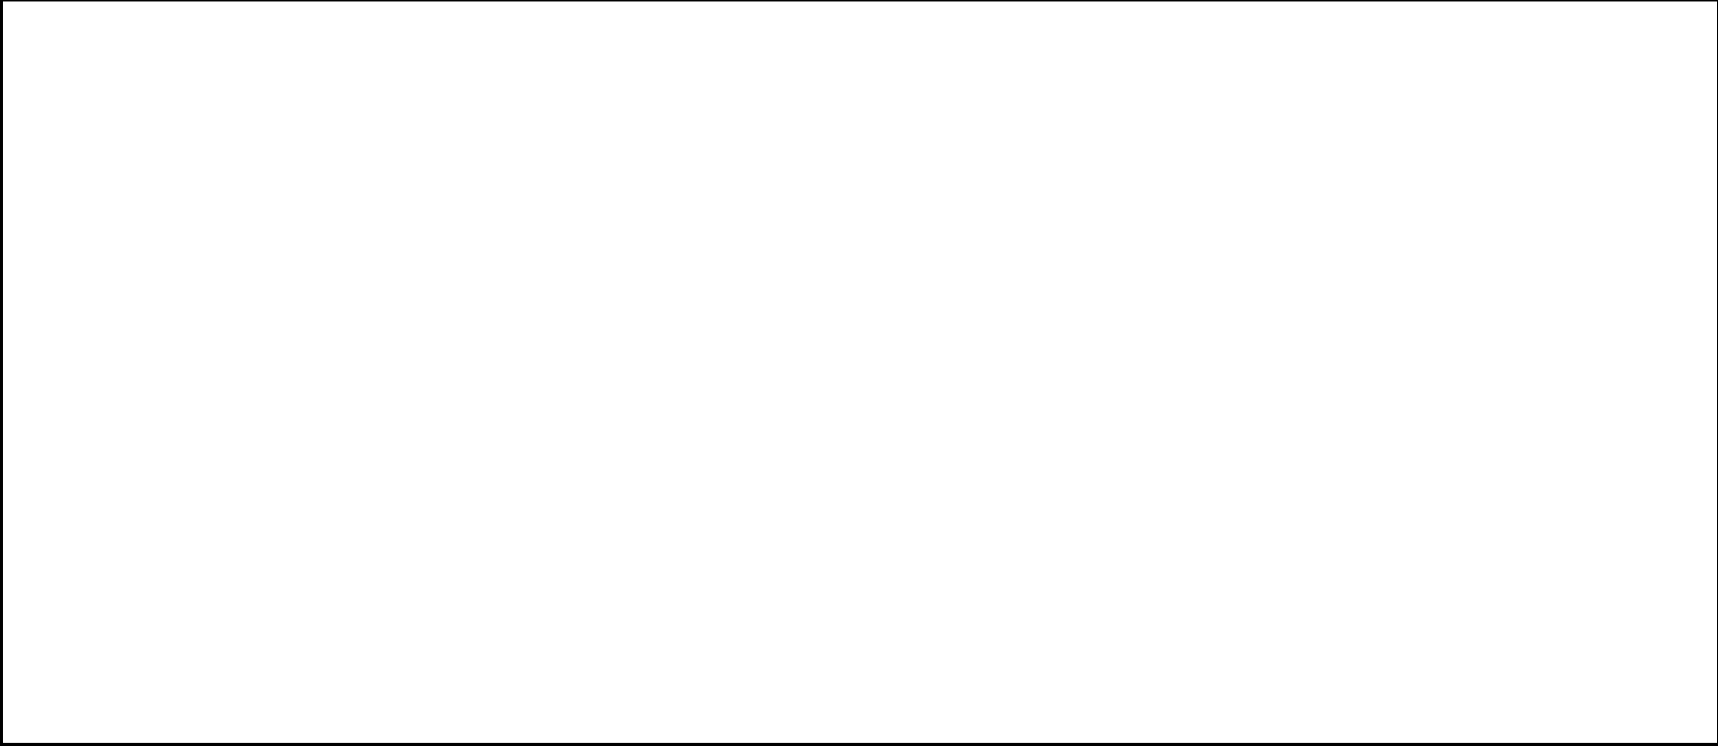

Title

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

About

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

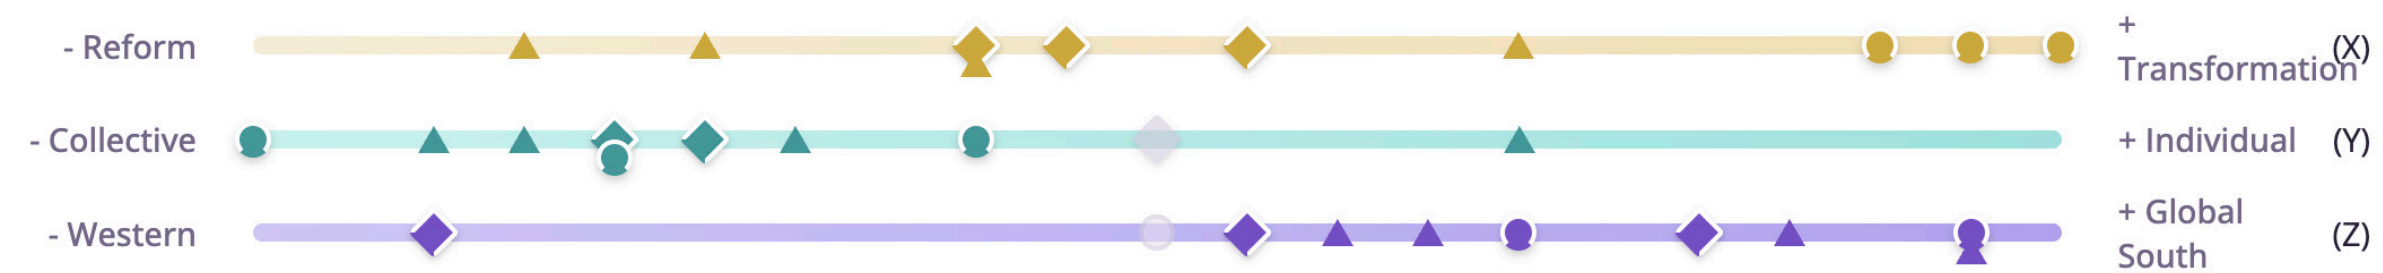

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

Axes View

Hover over an item in the list below to see its position. (10 items shown)

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

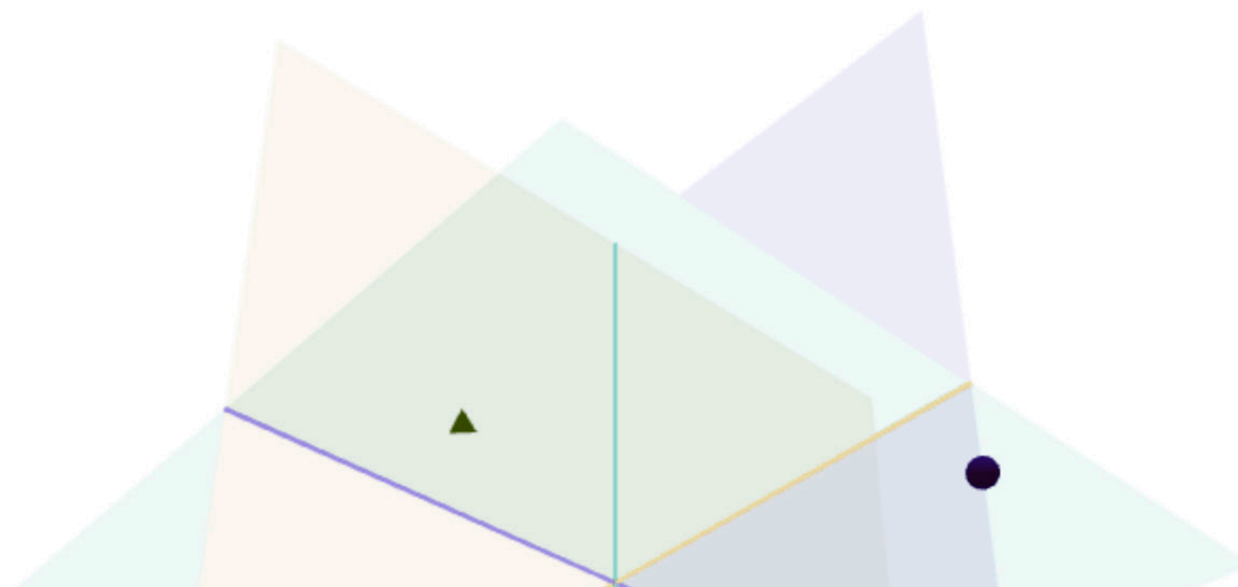

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

- ☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society
- ☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements
- ☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View

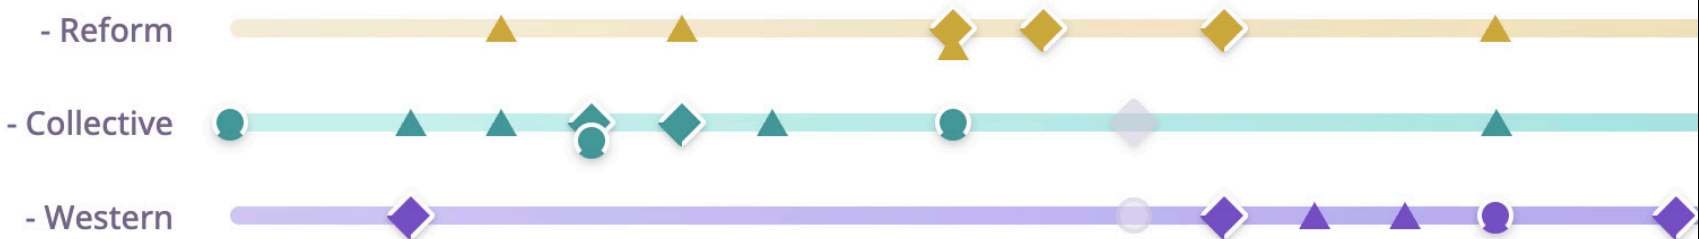

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

Axes View

Hover over an item in the list below to see its position. (10 items shown)

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

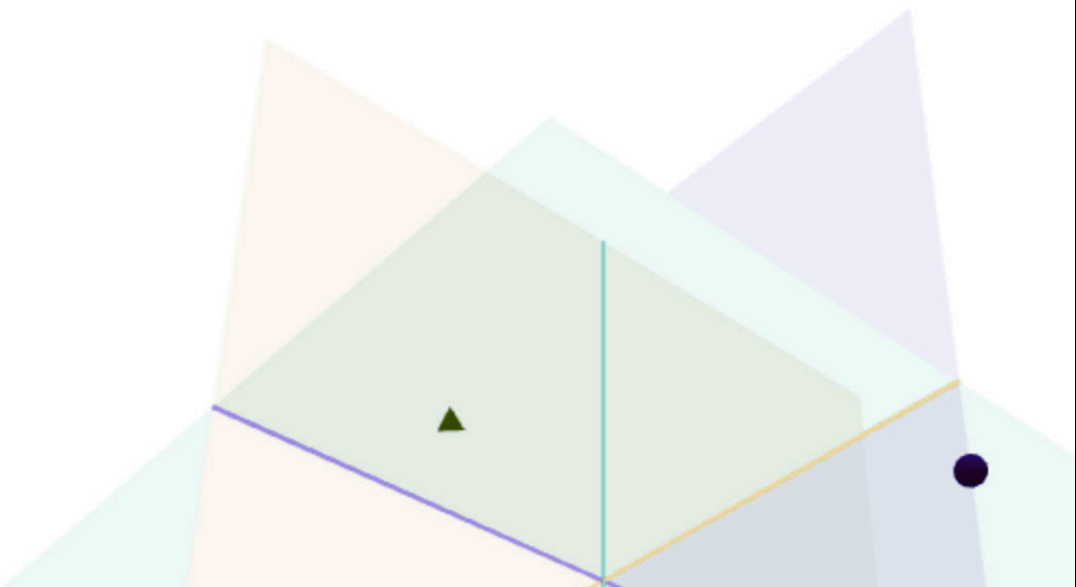

Publication Type

Filter publications by category

- ☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society
- ☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View

About

Civil society, academic and government views and activities around “de-colonising development” span a broad range of positions - they open up a conceptual space. Exploring this space is a key part of engaging with the topic. This tool invites you to engage in an interactive exploration in three steps. First, you are invited to explore different viewpoints along three conceptual axes. Then, you can explore how these positions relate in a conceptual space. Lastly, you are invited to position yourself in the conceptual space you have just explored. Debating, let alone shaping the future of development cooperation is certainly aided by an exploration of the positions, differences and tensions in this space - you are invited to do just that, and in the process possibly clarify your own position. Be it through agreement or in contrast, or both.

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

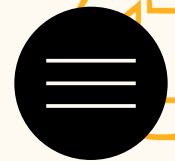

Your Position

Publication List

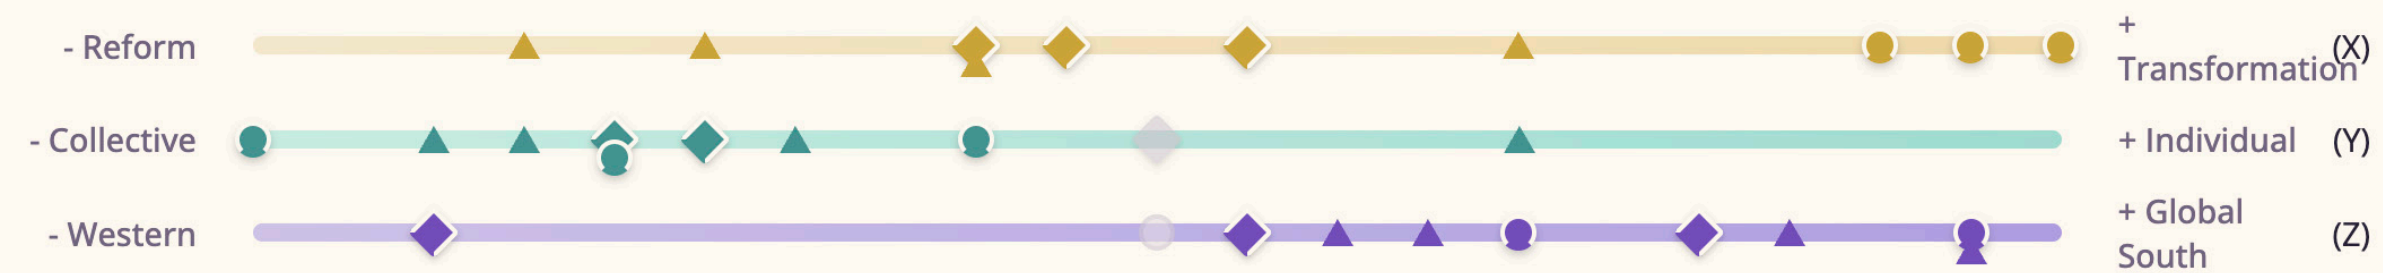

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

Axes View

Hover over an item in the list below to see its position. (10 items shown)

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

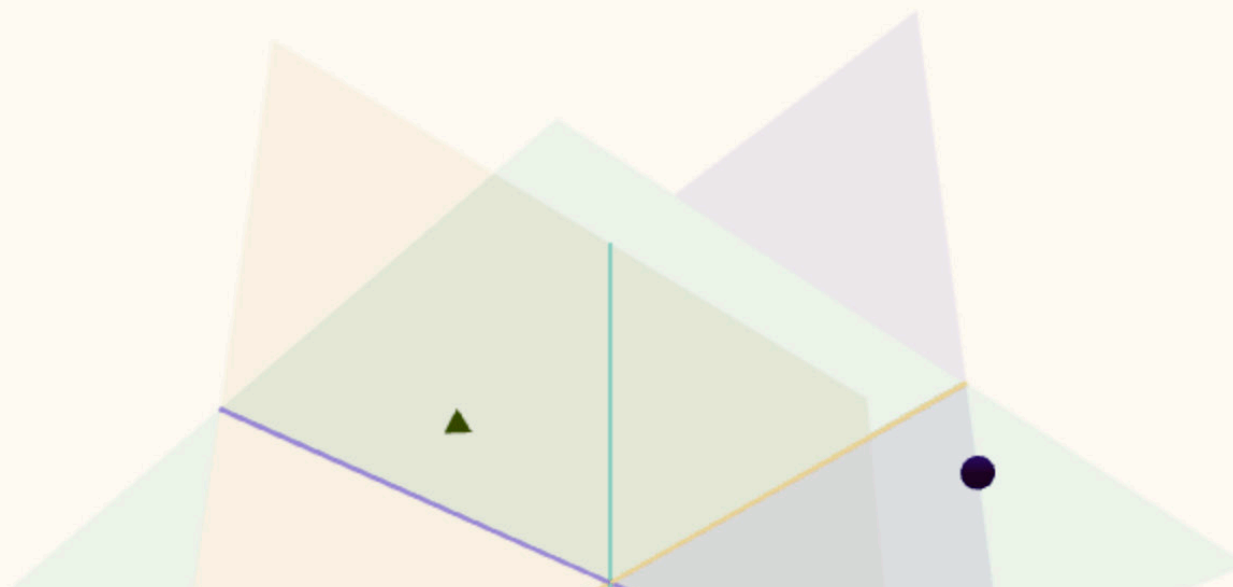

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

- ☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society
- ☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements
- ☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View

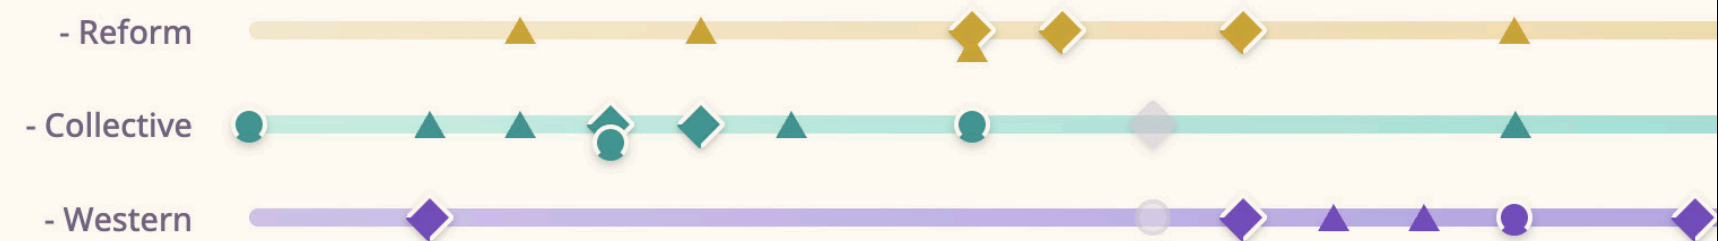

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

Axes View

Hover over an item in the list below to see its position. (10 items shown)

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

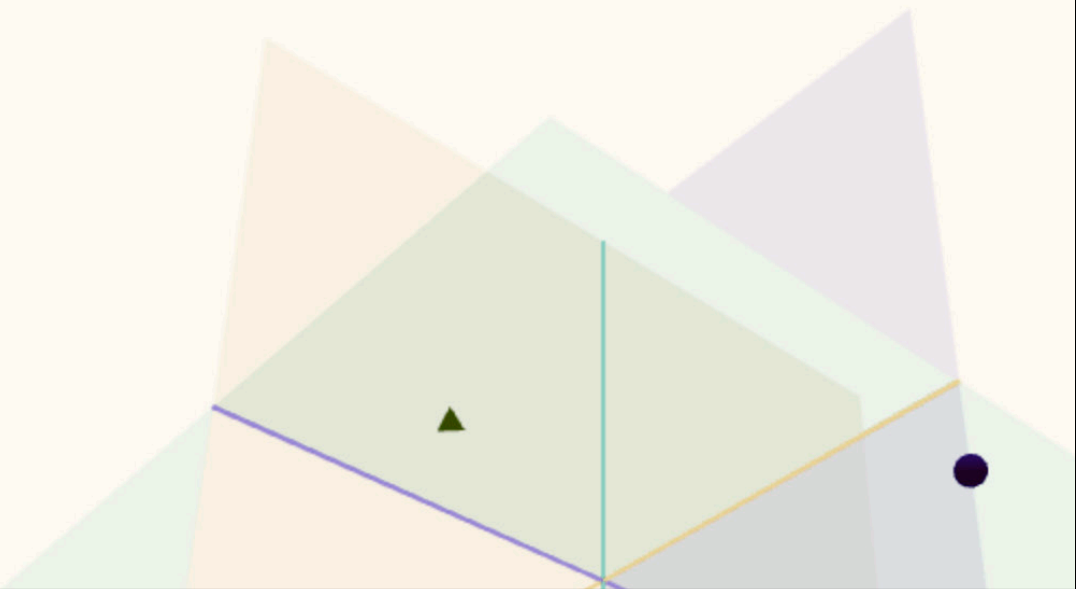

Publication Type

Filter publications by category

- ☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society
- ☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View

About

Civil society, academic and government views and activities around “de-colonising development” span a broad range of positions - they open up a conceptual space. Exploring this space is a key part of engaging with the topic. This tool invites you to engage in an interactive exploration in three steps. First, you are invited to explore different viewpoints along three conceptual axes. Then, you can explore how these positions relate in a conceptual space. Lastly, you are invited to position yourself in the conceptual space you have just explored. Debating, let alone shaping the future of development cooperation is certainly aided by an exploration of the positions, differences and tensions in this space - you are invited to do just that, and in the process possibly clarify your own position. Be it through agreement or in contrast, or both.

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

Title

About

Title

- About
- Axes View
- Conceptual Space View
- Your Position
- Publication List

About

Title

About

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

Axes View

Title

Axes View

About

Civil society, academic and government views and activities around “decolonising development” span a broad range of positions - they open up a conceptual space. Exploring this space is a key part of engaging with the topic. This tool invites you to engage in an interactive exploration in three steps. First, you are invited to explore different viewpoints along three conceptual axes. Then, you can explore how these positions relate in a conceptual space. Lastly, you are invited to position yourself in the conceptual space you have just explored. Debating, let alone shaping the future of development cooperation is certainly aided by an exploration of the positions, differences and tensions in this space - you are invited to do just that, and in the process possibly clarify your own position. Be it through agreement or in contrast, or both.

Decolonising Development

About

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

About

Civil society, academic and government views and activities around “decolonising development” span a broad range of positions - they open up a conceptual space. Exploring this space is a key part of engaging with the topic. This tool invites you to engage in an interactive exploration in three steps. First, you are invited to explore different viewpoints along three conceptual axes. Then, you can explore how these positions relate in a conceptual space. Lastly, you are invited to position yourself in the conceptual space you have just explored. Debating, let alone shaping the future of development cooperation is certainly aided by an exploration of the positions, differences and tensions in this space - you are invited to do just that, and in the process possibly clarify your own position. Be it through agreement or in contrast, or both.

Decolonising Development

About

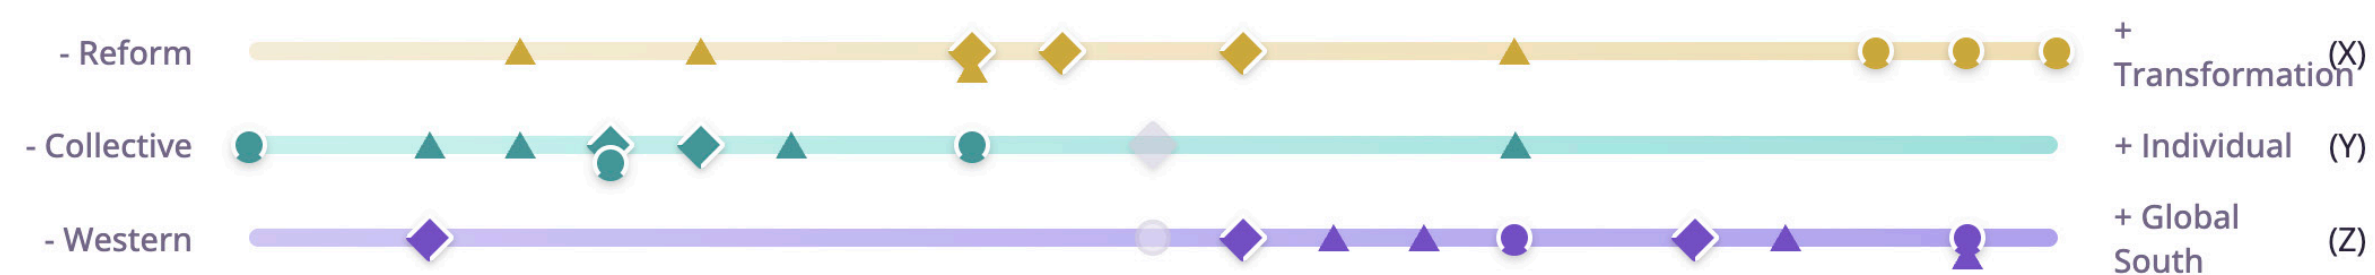

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

Axes View

Hover over an item in the list below to see its position. (10 items shown)

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society

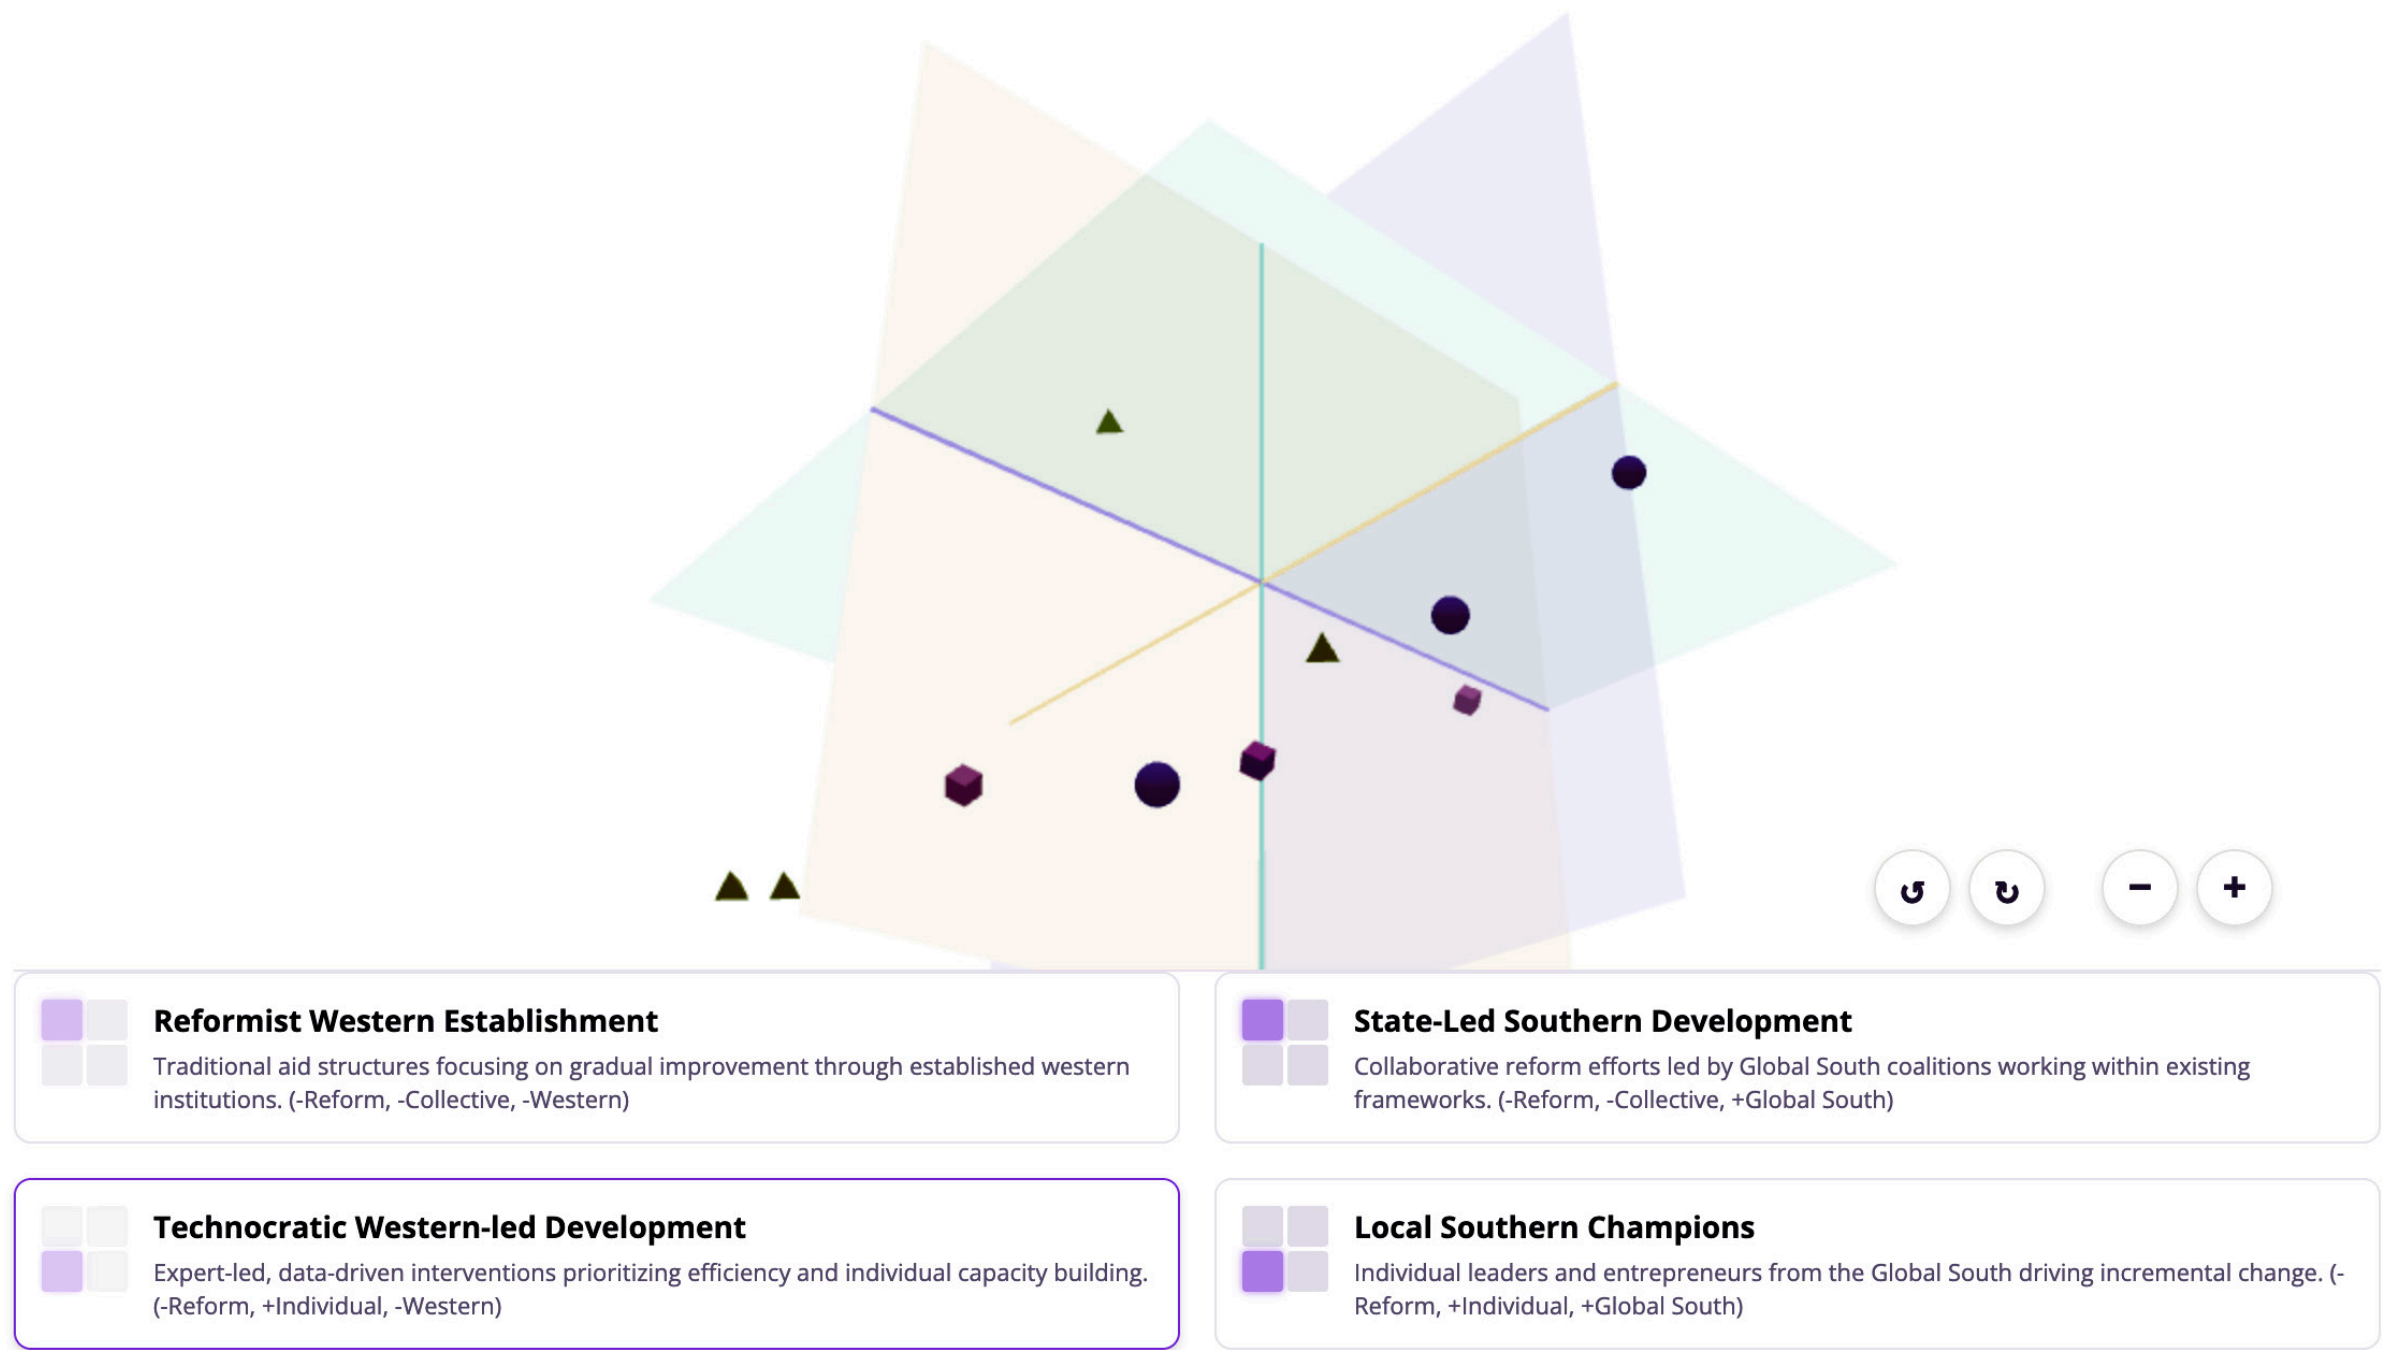

☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements

☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View

Conceptual Space

Decolonising Development

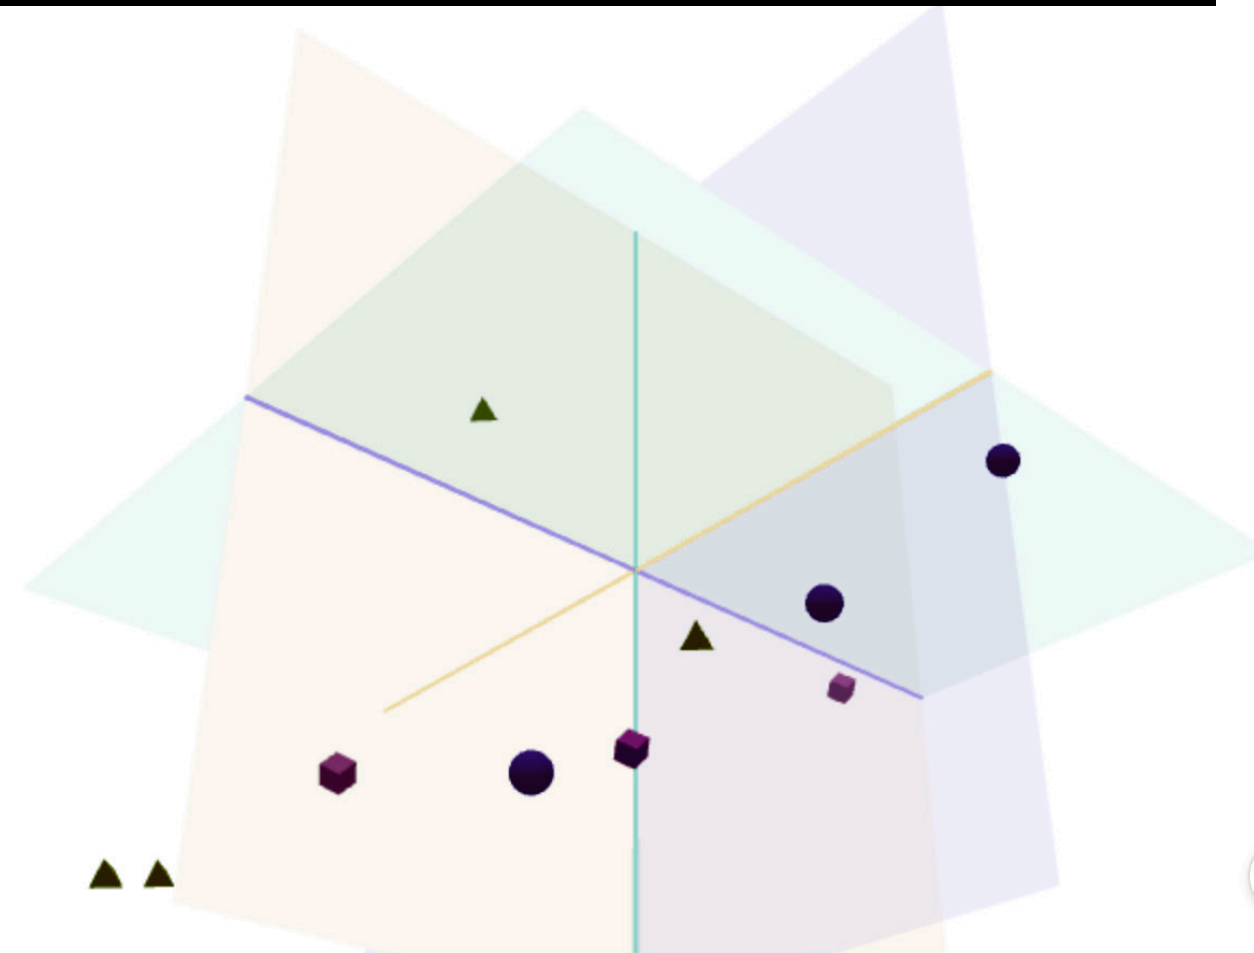

About

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

Reformist Western Establishment

Traditional aid structures focusing on gradual improvement through established western institutions. (-Reform, -Collective, -Western)

State-Led Southern Development

Collaborative reform efforts led by Global South coalitions working within existing frameworks. (-Reform, -Collective, +Global South)

Technocratic Western-led Development

Expert-led, data-driven interventions prioritizing efficiency and individual capacity building. (-Reform, +Individual, -Western)

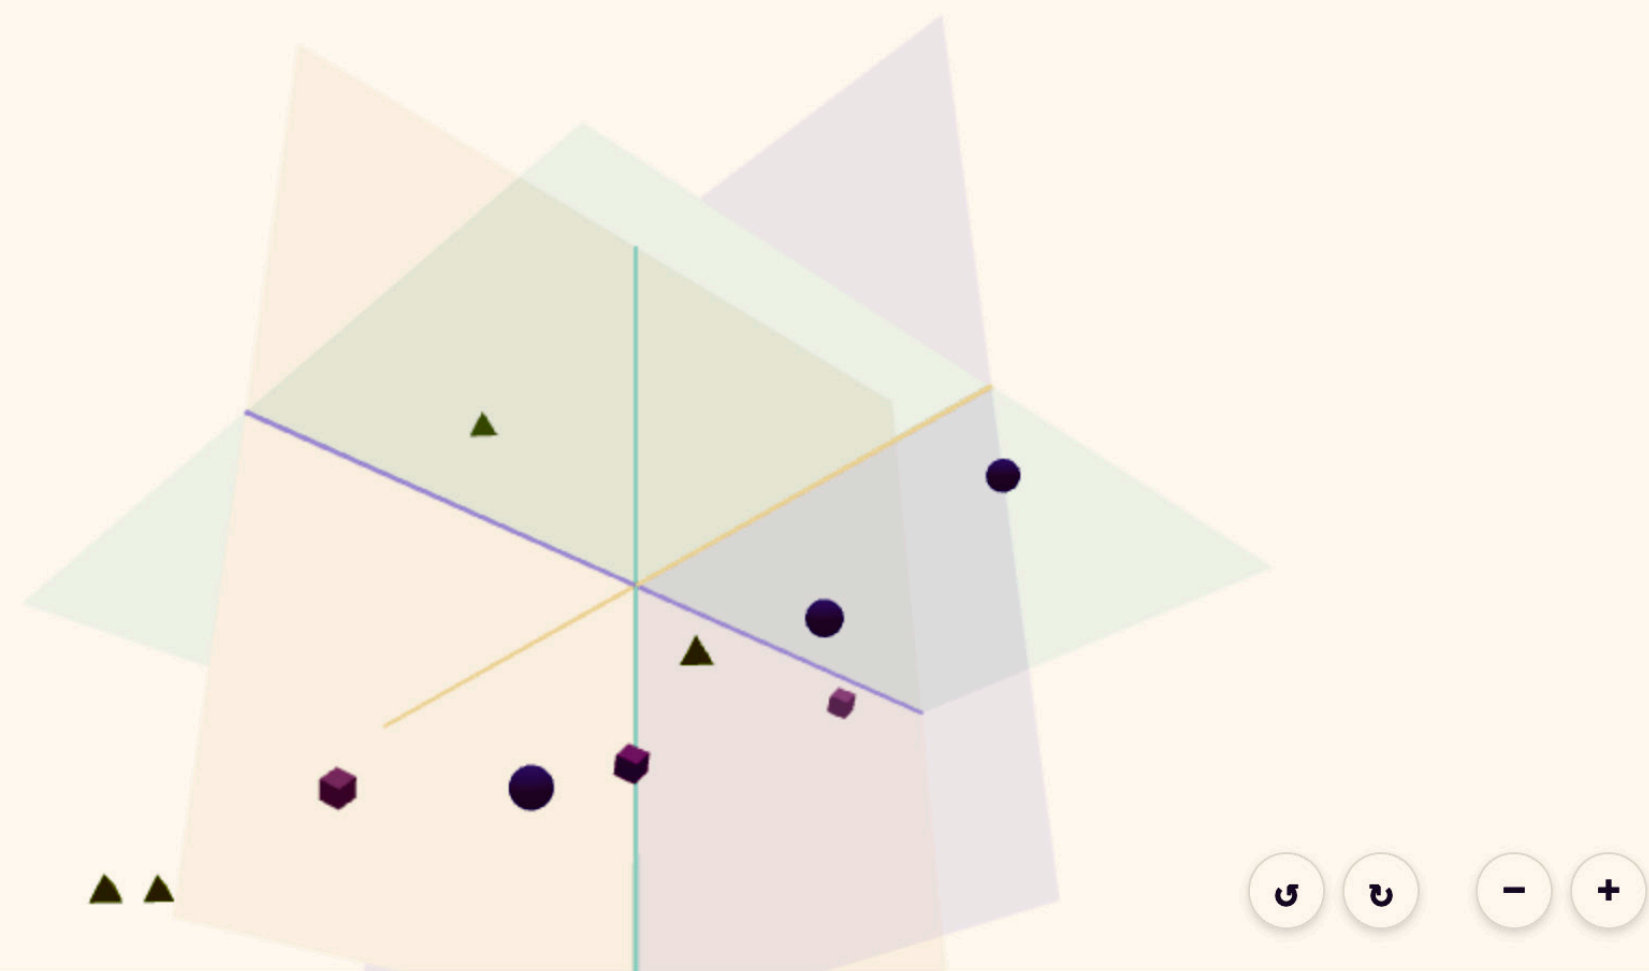

Local Southern Champions

Individual leaders and entrepreneurs from the Global South driving incremental change. (-Reform, +Individual, +Global South)

Conceptual Space View

↶

↷

-

+

- Reformist Western Establishment
Traditional aid structures focusing on gradual improvement through established western institutions. (-Reform, -Collective, -Western)
- State-Led Southern Development
Collaborative reform efforts led by Global South coalitions working within existing frameworks. (-Reform, -Collective, +Global South)
- Technocratic Western-led Development
Expert-led, data-driven interventions prioritizing efficiency and individual capacity building. (-Reform, +Individual, -Western)
- Local Southern Champions
Individual leaders and entrepreneurs from the Global South driving incremental change. (-Reform, +Individual, +Global South)

Conceptual Space

Decolonising Development

×

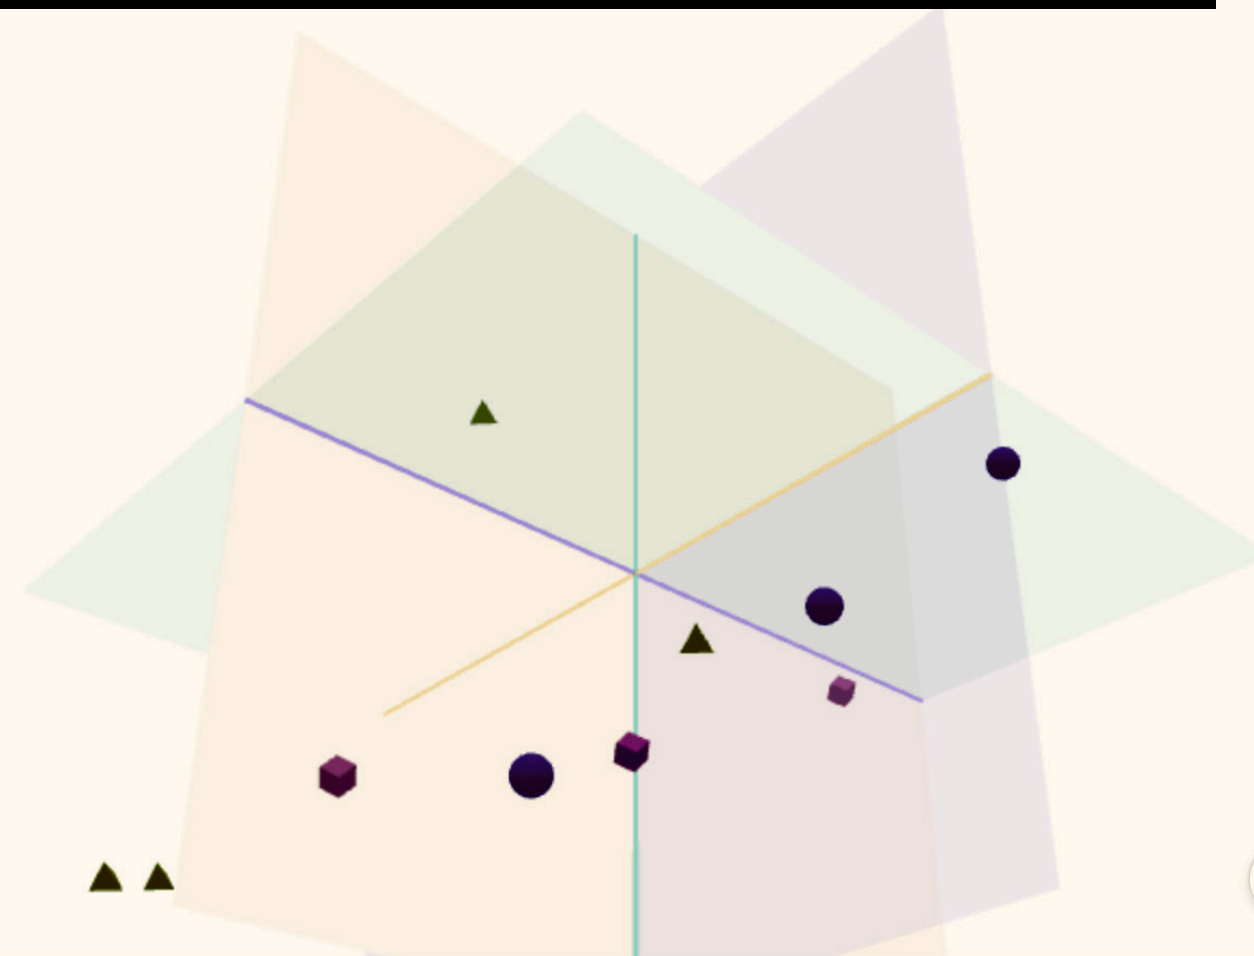

About

Axes View

Conceptual Space View

Your Position

Publication List

Reformist Western Establishment

Traditional aid structures focusing on gradual improvement through established western institutions. (-Reform, -Collective, -Western)

State-Led Southern Development

Collaborative reform efforts led by Global South coalitions working within existing frameworks. (-Reform, -Collective, +Global South)

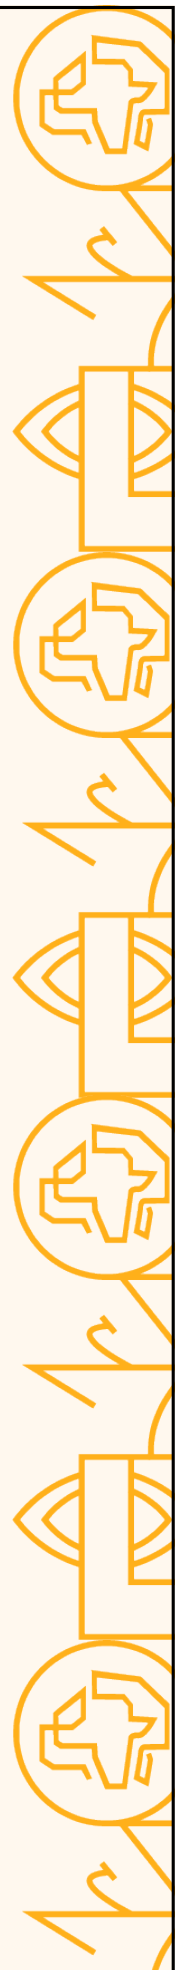

Technocratic Western-led Development

Expert-led, data-driven interventions prioritizing efficiency and individual capacity building. (-Reform, +Individual, -Western)

Local Southern Champions

Individual leaders and entrepreneurs from the Global South driving incremental change. (-Reform, +Individual, +Global South)

Title

Axes View

Conceptual

sition

Title

Axes View

Conceptual

sition

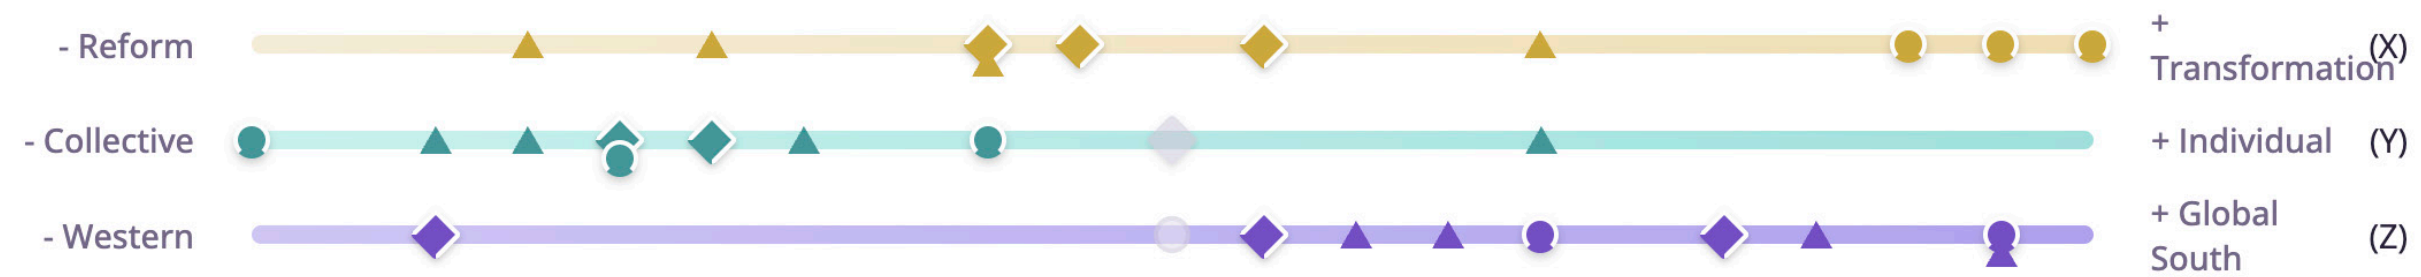

Title

About

Publication List

Axes View

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society

☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements

☒ ● Academia

Conceptual Space View

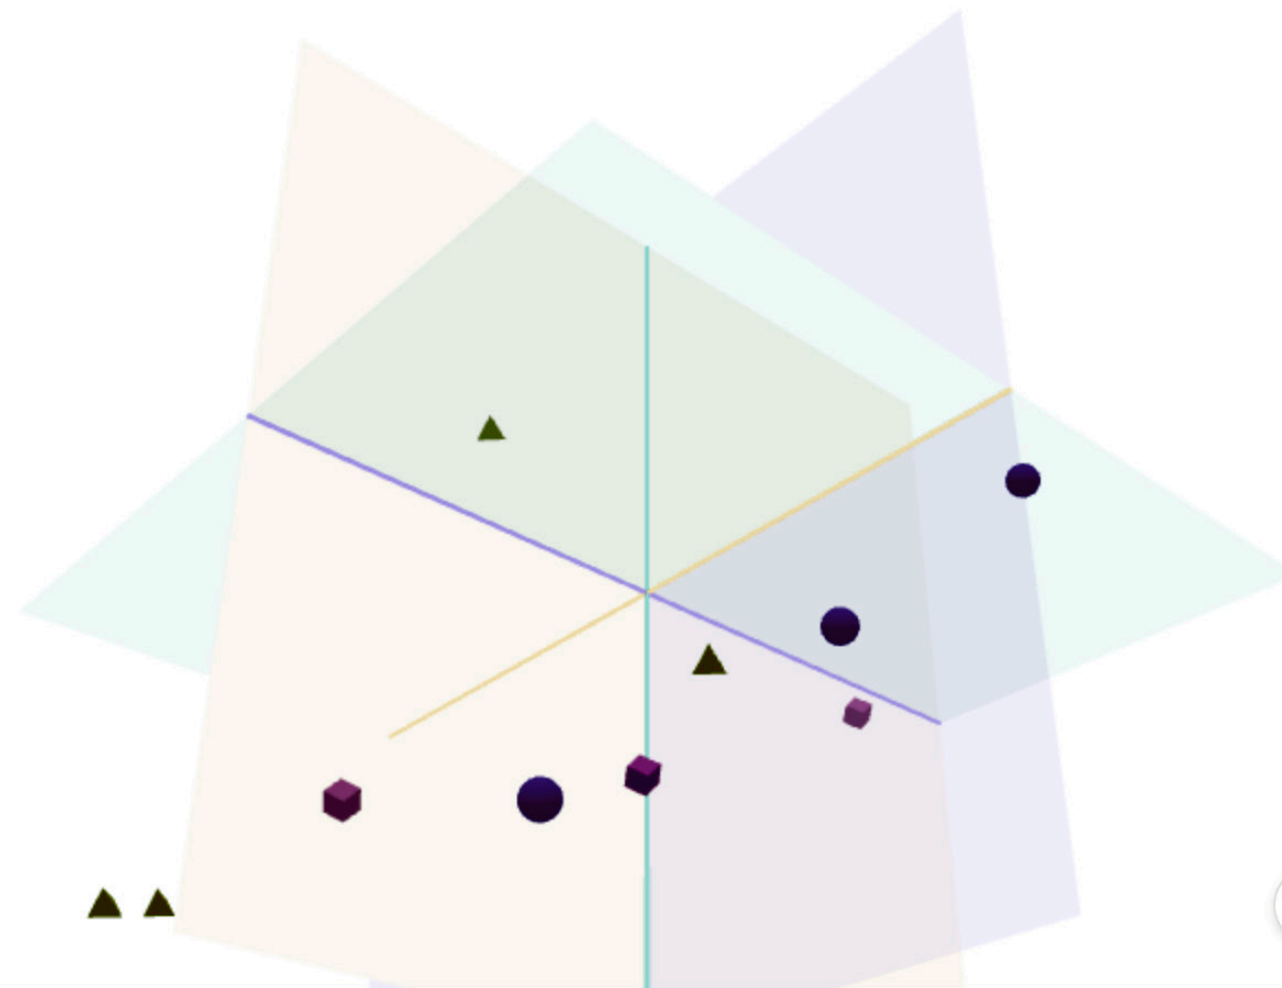

Axes View

- Reform
- Collective
- Western

Year of Publication

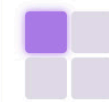

Filter by year

Filter by year

Reformist Western Establishment

Traditional aid structures focusing on gradual improvement through established western institutions. (-Reform, -Collective, -Western)

State-Led Southern Development

Collaborative reform efforts led by Global South coalitions working within existing frameworks. (-Reform, -Collective, +Global South)

Technocratic Western-led Development

Expert-led, data-driven interventions prioritizing efficiency and individual capacity building. (-Reform, +Individual, -Western)

Local Southern Champions

Individual leaders and entrepreneurs from the Global South driving incremental change. (-Reform, +Individual, +Global South)

Designed by J.

Your Position

Concept

QUESTION 1 OF 8

"Development assistance, when properly targeted, remains a vital tool for lifting nations out of poverty." (Inspired by J. Sachs) - Global institutions need reform, not abolition.

Strongly Agree

Agree

Neutral

Disagree

Strongly Disagree

☐ Reform
☐ Tradition ☐ Institution

☐ Techn
☐ Expert-l ☐ (-Reform

Transformation (X)
Individual (Y)
Global (Z)
South

Statements

Axes View

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society

☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements

☒ ● Academia

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society

☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements

☒ ● Academia

About

Civil society, academic and government views and activities around “decolonising development” span a broad range of positions - they open up a conceptual space. Exploring this space is a key part of engaging with the topic. This tool invites you to engage in an interactive exploration in three steps. First, you are invited to explore different viewpoints along three conceptual axes. Then, you can explore how these positions relate in a conceptual space. Lastly, you are invited to position yourself in the conceptual space you have just explored. Debating, let alone shaping the future of development cooperation is certainly aided by an exploration of the positions, differences and tensions in this space - you are invited to do just that, and in the process possibly clarify your own position. Be it through agreement or in contrast, or both.

Publication List

Khan	The Narrative of Decolonization of Development Aid	2024
BMZ	Overcoming colonial continuities in development policy	2025
Caixeta and Dos Santos	Decolonizing South-South Cooperation: An Analytical Framework	2022
Vij (OECD)	Developement Cooperation Report	2023

Publications

Khan

BMZ

Caixeta and Dos S

Vij (OECD)

WACSI

Icaza and Vázque

Meininghaus, Suz

Kapazoglou and C

Van Beurden

Goris and Magen

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

Civil society, academic and government views and activities around “decolonising development” span a broad range of positions - they open up a conceptual space. Exploring this space is a key part of engaging with the topic. This tool invites you to engage in an interactive exploration in three steps. First, you are invited to explore different viewpoints along three conceptual axes. Then, you can explore how these positions relate in a conceptual space. Lastly, you are invited to position yourself in the conceptual space you have just explored. Debating, let alone shaping the future of development cooperation is certainly aided by an exploration of the positions, differences and tensions in this space - you are invited to do just that, and in the process possibly clarify your own position. Be it through agreement or in contrast, or both.

+ Transformation (X)
+ Individual (Y)
+ Global South (Z)

cy Statements

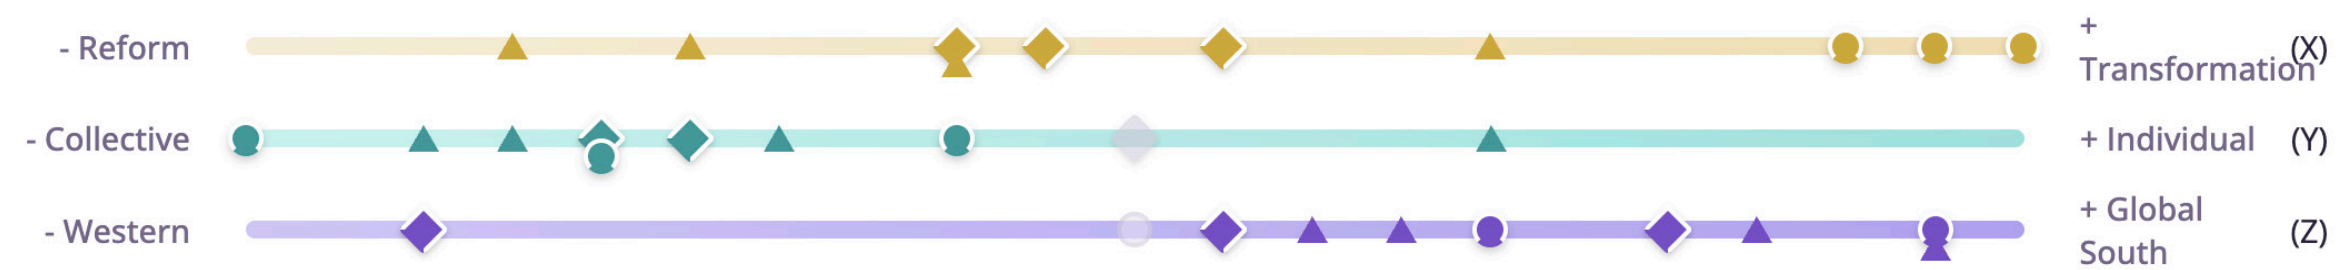

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

Civil society, a range of positive topics. This tool offers different viewpoints on the same space. Last but not least, let alone shape preferences and the position. Be it

Axes View

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society

☒ ◆ Governments/Policy Statements

☒ ● Academia

within existing incremental change. (-

Decolonising Development

Exploring Conceptual Spaces

Year of Publication

Filter by year: 2025

Publication Type

Filter publications by category:

- ☒ ▲ NGOs/Civil Society
- ☒ ♦ Governments/Policy Statements
- ☒ ● Academia

	2022 2024
ways	2022
n Africa	2015
	2021

About

Civil society, academic and government views and activities around “decolonising development” span a broad range of positions - they open up a conceptual space. Exploring this space is a key part of engaging with the topic. This tool invites you to engage in an interactive exploration in three steps. First, you are invited to explore different viewpoints along three conceptual axes. Then, you can explore how these positions relate in a conceptual space. Lastly, you are invited to position yourself in the conceptual space you have just explored. Debating, let alone shaping the future of development cooperation is certainly aided by an exploration of the positions, differences and tensions in this space - you are invited to do just that, and in the process possibly clarify your own position. Be it through agreement or in contrast, or both.

Publication List

Khan	The Narrative of Decolonization of Development Aid	2024
BMZ	Overcoming colonial continuities in development policy	2025
Caixeta and Dos Santos	Decolonizing South-South Cooperation: An Analytical Framework	2022